

MICHAEL JOSEPH

Michael Joseph was born in the industrial town of Methuen, Massachusetts on June 12, 1962. He is a self-taught photographer, best known for his award-winning black-and-white photographs of architecture. He has traveled to all 48 contiguous United States and many international locations. His photographs are in several important museums, major corporations, public places, and private collections. His photographs are also featured in many movies, television shows, commercials, in-print publications, and retail stores.
